

CME and SAM Information

The articles in this issue of AJR Integrative Imaging offer CME credit or SAM and CME credits.

CME Credit

The American Roentgen Ray Society (ARRS) is accredited by the Accreditation Council on Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical activities for physicians.

The ARRS designates this educational activity for a maximum of 4 credits toward the AMA Physician's Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only those credits that he/she actually spent in the activity.

- Up to 2 CME credit may be claimed for Imaging of Pulmonary Embolism: Self-Assessment Module.
- Up to 2 CME credits may be claimed for Imaging of the Pineal Region and Spine: Self-Assessment Module.

These CME articles consist of two parts: one—the text and related images appearing in this supplement, and two—the self-evaluation quiz which is available online at www.arrs.org. You should read the articles, review the accompanying images, and refer to the references in this supplement, then complete the self-evaluation quiz. To obtain CME credit you must complete the self-evaluation quiz online. Visit www.arrs.org and select the Journals/Integrative Imaging link on the left. There is no charge for ARRS members to participate in this program. Non-members pay a fee to access CME and SAM material.

Date of release: February 21, 2006

Expiration date: February 20, 2009
